I hate math

Teacher

Are we not having class?

You should study. Shall we study here?

Hhaahh~ I'm tired
Did you take an exam today?

Even if it's difficult. Ha-yeong after reading the question did you cry as soon as you seen it?

Huhu

Ugh. Really?

Yeah yeah it's not a joke

Yeah, is so tired from staying up all night last night

Ah, that's the scent of my hand cream

By the way Ha-yeong did you spray perfume? A sweet fragrant?

Aha

A little bit childish

I kept a little. Shall we work?

Work ?

Uh, your private lessons

Did you see your mock test today? Score?

Ha-yeongs private tutor, is quite famous

Our Ha-yeong

Can't you do anything?

When I work. I'm really sure

This teacher is good

You've done all the homework Not even tips or tricks Why are you so weak for actual tests

I'll take a look at the English words Did you memorize the vocabulary book?

Many of her students grades rose within 3 months time

But Ha-yeong grades are always the lowest

My chance is my daughter lacking something?

Example?

You idiot! Blockhead! Can't you read between the lines?

Haa I presume youre frustrated. I'm going to have to face it

Of course you are a teacher And I believe in you

Your skills are the best

However. It's been 1 year since she started studying I'm worried that her grades are barely keeping pace

Ha-yeong sleeps at 10 PM

Well at first glance where do we stand. What should I promise her for good grades?

Maybe a reward isn't big motivator for Ha-yeong

sip

She is not ambitious enough

Well maybe I should trying looking at this from a different standing

Yeah? From where?

Well let me see well it is just a guess

First I'll give her a big push

She is going to get better grades

Ugh... raise their grades

Parents make a big deal out of this. They quickly give up as soon as they know their daughter is hopeless

Where does Ha-jeong's mind go
